CACTUS FROLIC

The Marion High students uncovered the smelling salts and revived vaudeville as a theme for the 1951 Cactus Frolic, held at Memorial Coliseum, Friday, November 9, from 7:00 to 9:00. Mr. Albert New served as general chairman of the event and was ably assisted by Ted Hayden, Nila Fox, John Roush, Charles Drake, Jeanne Keyser, "Doc" Wagner, Mr. Hirsch, Mrs. Renbarger, Mr. Polley, Mr. Jones, Mr. Miller, and Mrs. Boxell.

The "Cactus Hi-lites of 1951" boasted Jay Longacre as Emcee and was opened with a band overture. As a special feature, the band also offered "Night Beat", a modern descriptive novelty. After the Hucklebuck Boogie number which featured ten tap-dancers, a quartet of girls, the "Senioretties", rendered "Once in a While" and "In the Evening by the Moonlight." "Irish" Bob Lohbauer sang "The Same Ol' Shillalah" and "Macnamara's Band". Phil Kennedy, Don Hooker, and Dan Geist, paddled their canoes into the spotlight and presented "Hawaiian War Chant", "Five-Foot Two", and "Sweet Georgia Brown."

After an exciting acrobatic routine admirably performed by Pat Adrianson, Maureen Lahey, and Betty Bedwell, the Advanced Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Renbarger, sang "Clap Yo' Hands". A clarinet quartet, composed of Joan Adrianson, Barbara Ginsberg, Linda Harter, and Nancy Hopkins, styled "Stardust" and "Margie". "Midgy, the midget" made his debut in Marion, assisted by Jay Longacre and Frank Roberts. The "Be-whiskered Four" — Verlin Harmon, Phil Norman, Bob Enyeart, and Phil Kennedy saluted Bill Norkus with "Coney Island Baby", but they didn't get much response from "Norkie" so they returned to their stations as waiters.

A firey Dixieland Jazz band, directed by Doc Wagner and featuring John Shroat, Bill McKeever, Phil Polley, and Steven Kendall, rocked the rafters with some hot Dixieland music and "When the Saints Come Marchin In". After a colorful tap routine, "Susie Simpkins", presented by seven studes from the Gayle Tutterow School of the Dance, the entire ensemble gathered at the mike to render the Finale — "The Sidewalks of New York".

Orchids go to the "little-recognized" people who always make the Frolic a success. Mr. Tillett, lighting technician; Mr. Cushing, P.A. system; Mr. Miller, art director; Miss Neal, costume advisor; Miss Pauline Lynch, publicity chairman; Mr. Penrod, ticket supervisor; and Mr. Stroup, dance chairman.

Easter Parade Queen

MISS SUSAN CRISLER

The climax of Marion High School's social activities was the annual Easter Parade, held this year on April 24. Petitions were signed; and on March 31 nominations were made, the seniors nominating three and the sophomores and juniors each five. On April 22, the queen and attendants were selected by the student body.

The senior princesses were Joanne Keyser and Zelda Zoe Rife. Sophomore attendants were JoAnn Barley, Rosemary Hayes, and Ruthanne Williamson. Junior attendants were Janet Achor, Joanne Driftmeyer, and Mary Ann Hamilton. Jackie Ault, Rosie Goff, and Sarah Bailey were chosen flower girls, and Betty Kelham was crown bearer.

Small groups of interested students and the musical organizations worked for two hectic weeks to prepare a floorshow which would satisfy the majority.

Miss Susan Crisler, elected as queen, was crowned by Mr. Dean B. Smith, principal. After the coronation, the queen and her attendants proceeded to the throne to view the floorshow.

PRINCESS ZELDA ZOE RIFE

EASTER PARADE

PRINCESS JOANNE KEYSER

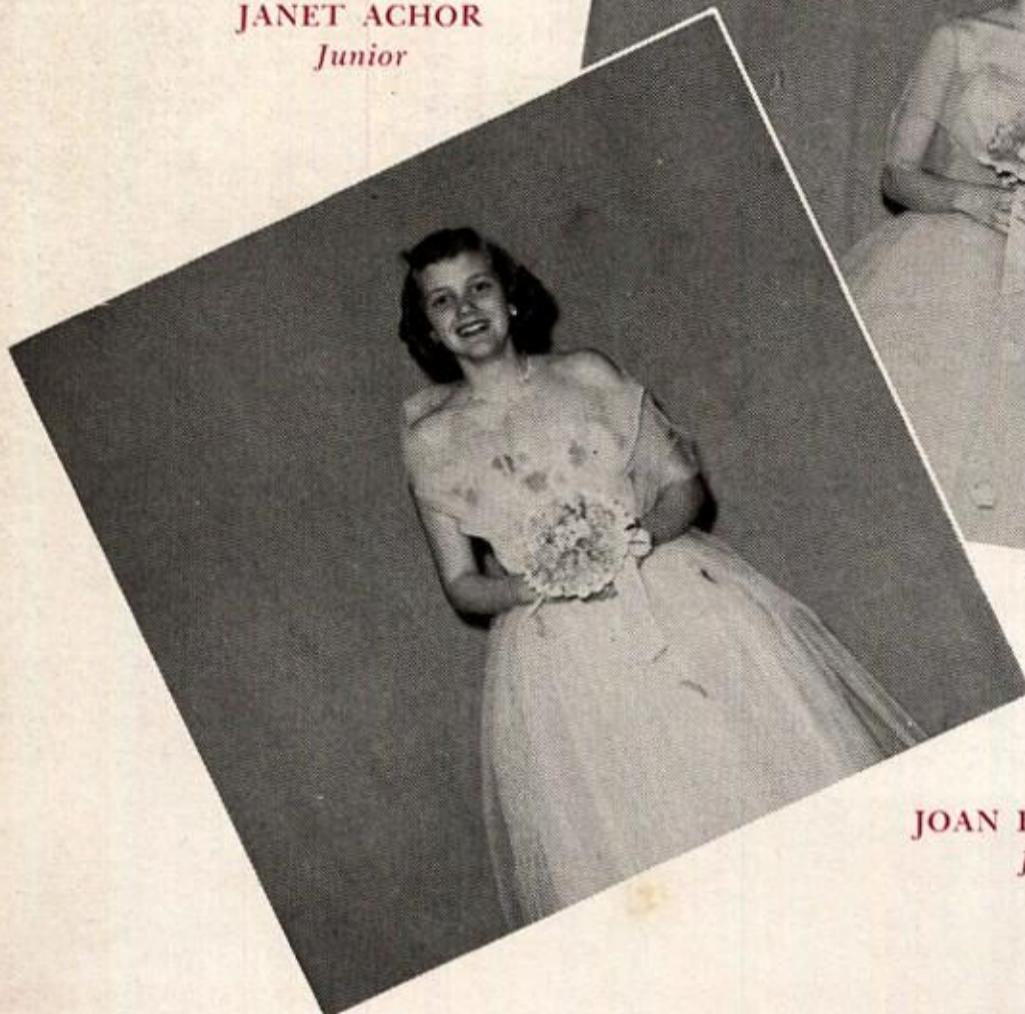

Theme for this year's floorshow was "Stairway to the Stars," which was an imaginary trip around the planets. From the moon, our nearest celestial neighbor, came a host of ballet dancers with Maureen Lahey as Moon Goddess. Jupiter was represented by a corps of twirlers performing to "Syncopated Clock", and a troupe of tap dancers who tapped to "By the Light of the Silvery Moon." The Advanced Chorus gave its rendition of "Swinging on a Star." The planet Mars made its entrance with the Marsian Warriors Drill to the background music of "Men From Mars."

Reflected in a green light, skaters represented Uranus. On the lighter side, John Hitesman, as Professor Rowland Arrington, gave his interpretation of an astronomical lecture from Pluto. The atmosphere of a space ship high in the stratosphere was staged by the band's version of "Get On Board." A couples dance, "The Night Is Young and You're So Beautiful" was the official ending of this gala event.

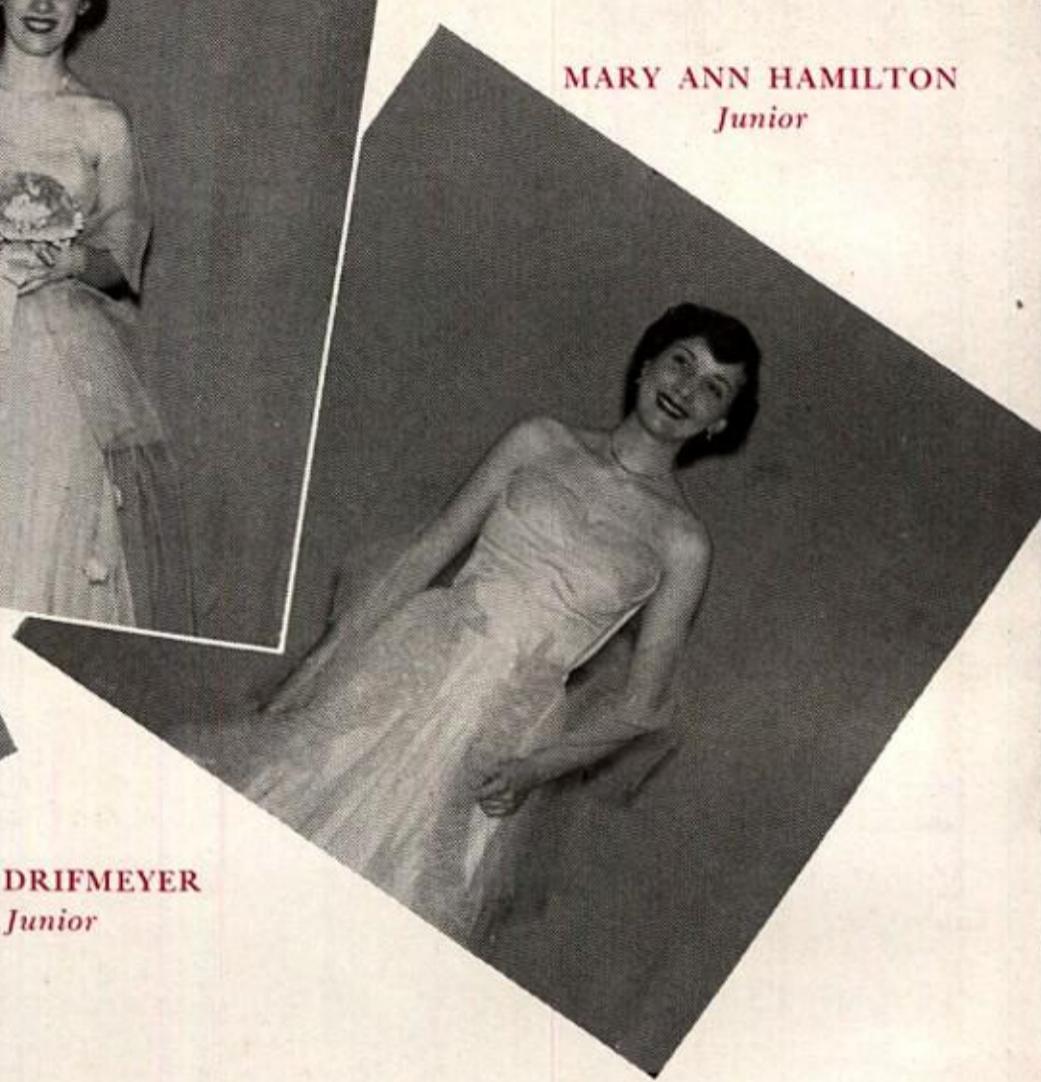

Congratulations go to all who made this show a successful hit with the people of Marion.

the ADMINISTRATION

MISS GLADYS NEAL

"To increase in stature, in wisdom, and in favor with God and man" is still the fourfold development that is the real goal of education," so believes the Dean of Girls, Miss Gladys Neal. She feels that all the varied activities of a modern school should have such development for their purpose. But no matter how crowded her calendar, Miss Neal always has time to take an interest in students' problems whether they be scholastic, financial or a little on the personal side.

It was through the efforts of our Dean of Girls that the Student Council was launched in Marion High School, and she now sponsors that organization as well as the Service Group of the Y-Teens.

Miss Neal received her A.B. from Earlham College and her M.A. from Columbia University. Additional work was done at the Universities of Chicago and Michigan.

DEAN B. SMITH

PRINCIPAL

Dean B. Smith has been principal of Marion High School for the past four years. Before coming to Marion, his experience included being a class room teacher, Dean of boys, assistant principal, and principal in cities in Northern Indiana.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of Huntington High School and has received degrees from Manchester College and the University of Wisconsin. He also attended Indiana and Purdue Universities.

Our principal has been active in a number of organizations in Marion in addition to being on committees and executive boards of state and national organizations.

Under Mr. Smith's supervision, Marion High School has maintained a high position in Indiana State and has captured North Central Association accreditation.

Experiences are given pupils to acquire training and leadership through activities such as club meetings, convocations, concerts, and Student Council. However, class room discussion and training comprise the fundamental basis of training in our school.

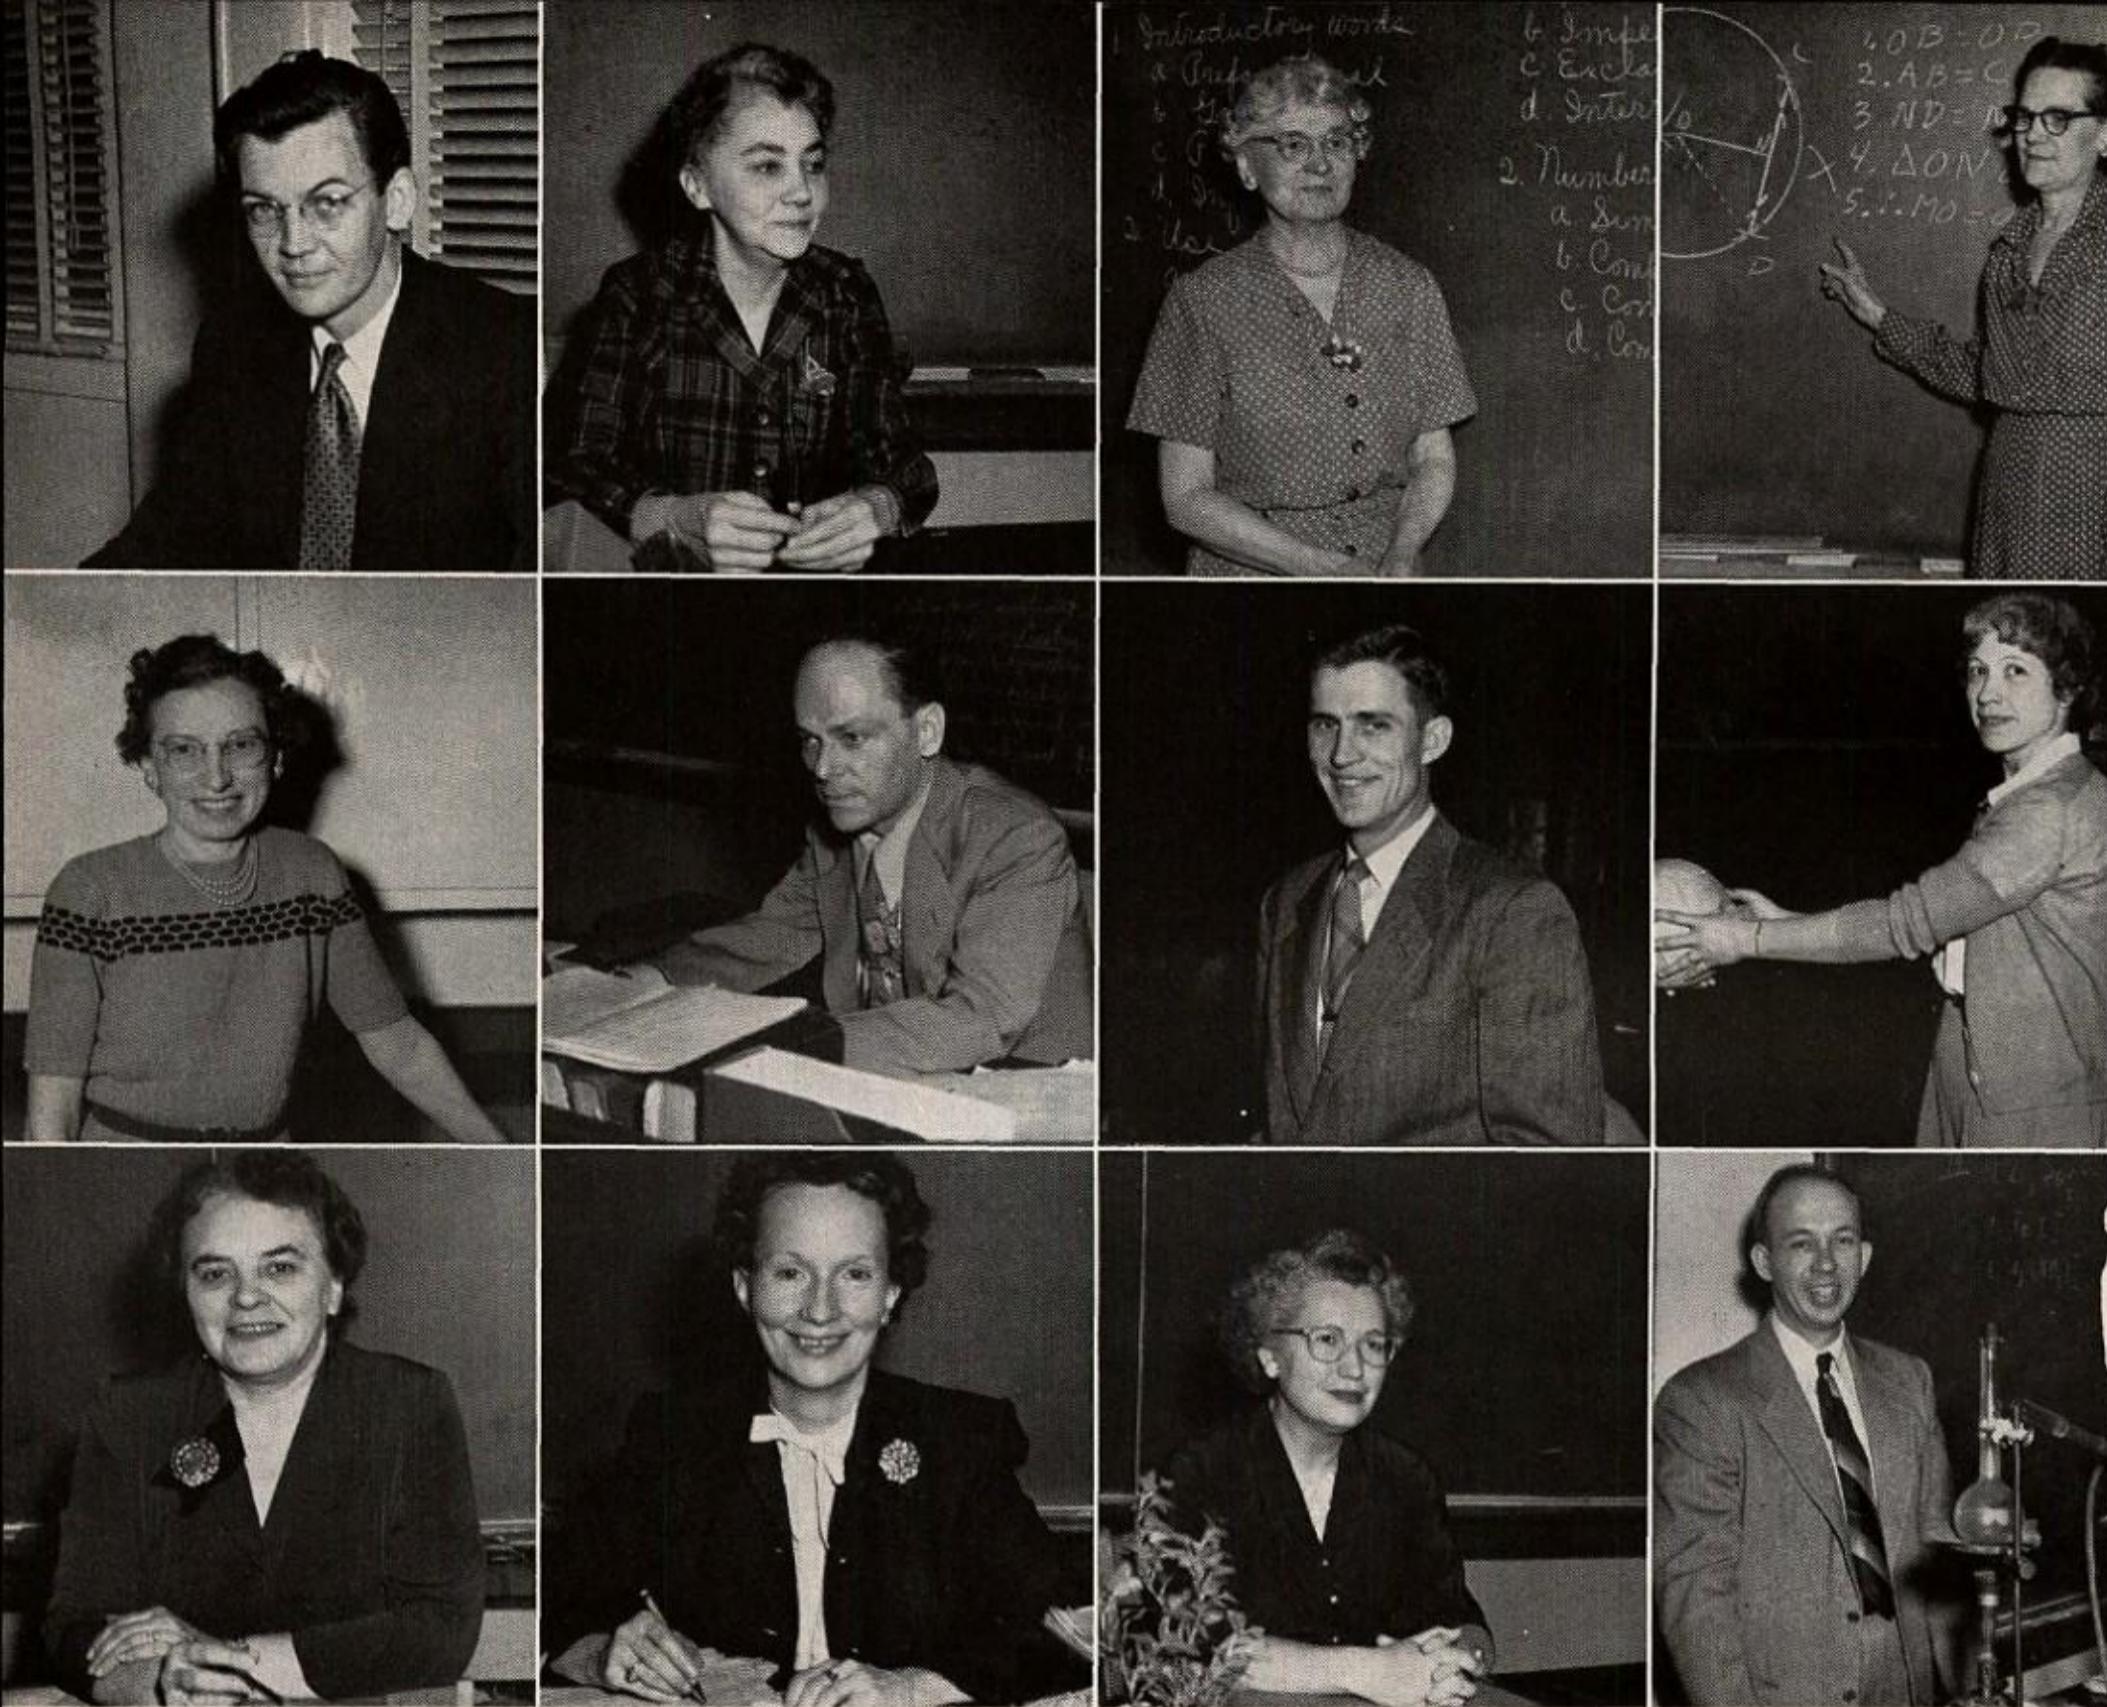

Provides capable guidance

BERNARD CARMIN

Endowed with the qualities of efficiency and sincerity, and having the happy thought of being liked by all students and teachers, Bernard D. Carmin (Uncle Bernie) is kept busy administering to the needs of all the boys in MHS and following many of them through the athletic program. He operates the "chain gang" at the football games, is scorekeeper at the basketball games, and is clerk at the track meets besides being director of the Booster Club and Cheer Leaders.

Before becoming Dean of Boys in 1940, Mr. Carmin was principal of Fremont Elementary School in North Marion. In 1942 he entered the Air Forces where he stayed for four years in World War II. He is now a Major in the Reserves. He has done college work at Marion College, Indiana University, and Northwestern. As a hobby he rears chinchillas.

Secretary; S. Thompson, Treasurer
Standing — B. Modlin, B. Thomas, L. Johnson, L. Chapman, J.
Rouch, L. Newell

The Student Council, as written in the constitution, consists of one representative from each home room, three seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore elected at-large from their respective classes. Those elected at-large compose the Senate. It is a member of the Indiana Association of Student Councils and the National organization.

Its chief purpose is to serve as a legislative body to provide a medium to further the co-operation of the students, teachers, and the administration.

Besides its varied legislative action, the Student Council sponsored the annual Courtesy Month, Operation Vittles, sale of the Cactus Frolic tickets, the annual Christmas Tree, and the election of cheerleaders.

The Council also bought a new piano for the auditorium, raising its funds from the profits of the Council store, by sponsoring a talent show, and from a part of the Easter Parade profits. It gave money to the convocation fund from the store.

HONOR SOCIETY

The Honor Society, sponsored by Miss Dorothy Case, amended the constitution and assisted in the installation of new members.

Members, elected by their respective classes, were chosen on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Scholarship requirements were a high school average of 88% and no person could have any D or F average on his card and be eligible for membership. The senior class is represented by 10% of its enrollment and the junior class has 5% of its enrollment.

The Honor Society officers were Richard Brunt, president; Zelda Rife, vice-president; Mary Lee Comer, secretary; and Ruth Davis, treasurer.

WRITER'S CLUB

The pen is a mighty sword. Many students interested in any form of writing wrote short stories, poems, and essays for the Writer's Club. These works of art were seen in the Survey a few times and many more were presented at club meetings of the group. Interest in other countries was aroused when students corresponded with pen pals.

Miss Mildred Aveline was club sponsor. Club officers were: Bob Truex, president; Ruth Davis, vice-president; Jade McMillan, secretary; and Dollie Bridgewater, treasurer.

SURVEY

The Survey, Marion Senior High School's newspaper, was sponsored by Mrs. Jennie Weaver this year. Editor, Jim Meredith, and business manager, Dorothy Tubbs, were a main part of the staff who put out the weekly editions of one of the best papers in any Grant County school.

It was the objective of the staff to edit the best school paper possible and at the same time give the students a paper they would enjoy reading. They reached this goal by printing accounts of athletic events, current school activities, and original poems by M.H.S. students.

The competent staff was made up of the most enthused English and journalism students. Our congratulations go to the staff and their sponsor for the fine newspaper of 1951-1952.

Y-TEENS have busy year

The Y-Teens, which is the part of the YWCA for high school girls, has a purpose to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideas of personal and social living to which we are committed by our Faith as Christians. In this endeavor they sought to understand Jesus and to share His love for all people and to grow in the knowledge and love of God.

Y-Teens' convocations began on September 25, when the membership drive was launched. Some of the most important of their many convocations were the recognition service, a Christmas program, courtesy convocation, and an Easter program.

Many cabinet meetings throughout the year proved useful in planning successful activities for the different groups. Civic activities included a community service project, world fellowship project, hanging of the green ceremony, a children's home party, and an Emily Flynn Home party. A Daughter-Dad potluck and a Mother-Daughter banquet constituted the family portion of the Y-Teens affairs. A special money making project for the year was the selling of plastic towels. On the lighter side of the activities were the style show, Y-Teen skating party, and St. Patrick's Day party. An after game dance and a Y-Teen formal dance were another part of YWCA social affairs.

Board of Directors —

Seated — R. Sears, D. Hooker.

Standing — C. Miller, J. Pender, B. Thomas,
C. Cox, L. Chapman, D. Stambaugh.

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character. Hi-Y members stand on and for the platform; clean sports, clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean living. Taking the lead in teaching high school students this principle, Mr. Ray Sears acted as club sponsor. Club officers were Don Hooker, president; Cliff Miller, vice-president; Bud Thomas, secretary; Charles Cox, treasurer; David Stambaugh, sergeant-at-arms; Larry Chapman, assistant sergeant-at-arms; and James Pender, chaplain.

The Hi-Y had many activities during the school year. Members sold programs at each football and basketball game that was played in Marion. An after game dance and the Purple and Gold dance were a part of the sociable activities of the club. Other activities included a coat check booth at the Cactus Frolic and the Easter Parade, a bake sale to finance the giving of Thanksgiving baskets to poor families, installation of the Fairmount Hi-Y club, a spring breakfast, and sponsoring a sportsmanship convocation during the courtesy campaign. The Hi-Y was responsible for keeping the school informed about school events by means of a bulletin board in the front hall.

MAHIDRA

Mahidra, Marion High School's Dramatics Club, sponsors all the plays produced here. Philip Hirsch serves as advisor of the group. Officers are elected each semester. This year Dollie Bridgewater was president; Takis Michos and Sue Henry were vice-presidents; Charlotte Haven was secretary; and Alice Gardner and Gene Pearson were treasurers.

Established several years ago to reward participants in dramatics, Mahidra does not have a large membership. Prospective members are limited to those who have worked in plays either on the cast or on the crews, preferably in both. Members are chosen according to their interest in dramatics and the time spent pursuing this interest.

On April 10, 1951, Mahidra became officially affiliated with The National Thespian Society. As Troupe 1125, it composes an inner circle of the more experienced club members who have been able to meet the strict requirements set forth in the national constitution. Although the troupe elects its own officers, it does not make a new dramatics club but merely serves as an advisory group.

BOOSTER CLUB

From September until April, it is a waste of time to plan a meeting in the auditorium on Wednesdays at 3:35 P.M.; because the Booster Club has it scheduled far in advance. At that time, the club transacts all of its business and practices for athletic events. The club and cheerleaders work together in planning yells.

For the first time twenty-two boys were added to the club, making a total of 154 members, the largest group yet. The club in its present form was organized in 1946 by the Student Council, under the direction of Robert McCafferty. Its chief purpose is to promote an organized yelling section plus to encourage good sportsmanship, win or lose.

The club is governed by a board of directors consisting of three seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores. The senior receiving the largest number of votes in the election becomes the president or chairman of the board. Board members for this year are Madeline Branson, president; Margie Long, Donna Fisher, Jane Drifmeyer, Nila Fox, Aneya Long, and Farrolyn Harmon. Nile Fox will be next year's president.

Meetings usually begin the middle of September with organization, outfitting, and preliminary practice. The club provides a core for yelling at football games, sits in a group at basketball games, provides the "A" team trophy at the Marion Invitational Relays, and decorates and serves at athletic banquets.

ADVANCED CHORUS

The Advanced Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Renbarger, was an asset to the school and community in its many activities, both in the school and community.

Marion High's Advanced Choral group was represented in the All State Chorus for Teachers' Institute and at the Purdue Teachers' Conference. The entire group attended the Four-City Festival at Peru. Religious activities for the community included a Lenten Service and a Holy Week service. Other civic affairs were a Kiwanis Club program and a broadcast over WMRI for National Education Week. In addition to the Cactus Frolic and the Easter Parade, the group presented Thanksgiving and Christmas convocations for the student body.

The chorus had as its objectives, to promote a love and appreciation for good music through choral singing, to give each chorus member an experience in singing all types of choral music, and to bring about an understanding of each type through the singing experience.

We must have caught the chorus off guard—they were seated while singing.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra enjoyed a very interesting season preparing and performing many selections of genuine musical significance by such composers as Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Wagner, Tschaikowsky, and more modern composers were represented by Rimsky-Korsakoff, Debussy, Don Gilis and others. Among featured works, appeared the Piano Concerto No. 1 by Bach, which was played by Sue Young, accompanied by the string orchestra. The Concerto in G Minor by Handel, for solo oboe and string orchestra, was played with Mr. Carl Robison, an old symphony orchestra colleague of Mr. Jones, playing the solo part.

The String Ensemble consisting of James Sutter and Sam Thompson, violins; Ruth Malson, viola; Joyce Malson, cellist; and Sue Young, pianist; played for many civic and church occasions throughout the city during the year. The same group appeared in the Indiana District and State Contests held at Butler University, receiving superior rating. Mary Ann Huff, cellist; Sue Young, pianist; and Sam Thompson, violinist; appeared in the contests and were awarded superior ratings for their solo playing. The full orchestra appeared in joint concerts with the chorus and band. They played for the ceremonious crowning of the queen in the Easter Parade. All members of the orchestra participated in the Annual Four City Music Festival held in Peru this year.

Winners of superior rating in the Indiana District and State contest: Sue Young, Sam Thompson, Jim Sutter, Ruth Malson, and Joyce Malson, seated.

On November 9, the band participated in the annual Cactus Frolic, and presented several numbers. Appearing at ten home basketball games during the winter months, the band also presented formal concert music at a program on January 13.

interesting and wholesome entertainment for its members.

Activities of the year began with the election and installation of officers in November. A Christmas party, Latin Leap, an all school dance, annual May Breakfast, and a stage show were the club's projects during the year. The group also sponsored M.H.S. students in a national competition.

Meetings were held each Thursday evening in the girls' gym. This is probably the only club which meets weekly throughout the year.

The club's sponsor is Mr. E. J. Tillett, who has contributed much to seeing that the purposes of the club were maintained.

FOOTBALL

During the hottest month of the summer, while most students were thinking of cool dips in the lake, a few energetic, sweating, husky lads were tackling dummies and going through all other kinds of calisthenics to get themselves in tip-top shape for the game of the "grid-iron", football.

Under coach, Robert "Stormy" Pfohl, these boys began their season at Memorial Field on September 7, against Huntington. Marion was the victor.

At home or away, the loyal Marion Giant fans braved rain, snow, roaring winds, and freezing temperatures to watch the hale and hearty Giants put in a record season. Their record was six wins, one tie, and two losses. Their last loss coming from the hands of the Conference champion, the Richmond Red Devils, during the last game of the season.

Congratulations to the Giants and their coach for the fine performances they gave and for a successful season.

ANDY WYCKOFF

MARION 12 - HUNTINGTON 0

As an appropriate debut for any football team, the Giants proclaimed themselves victors of their opener by whipping the Huntington Vikings at Memorial Field in Marion.

MARION 13 - KOKOMO 13

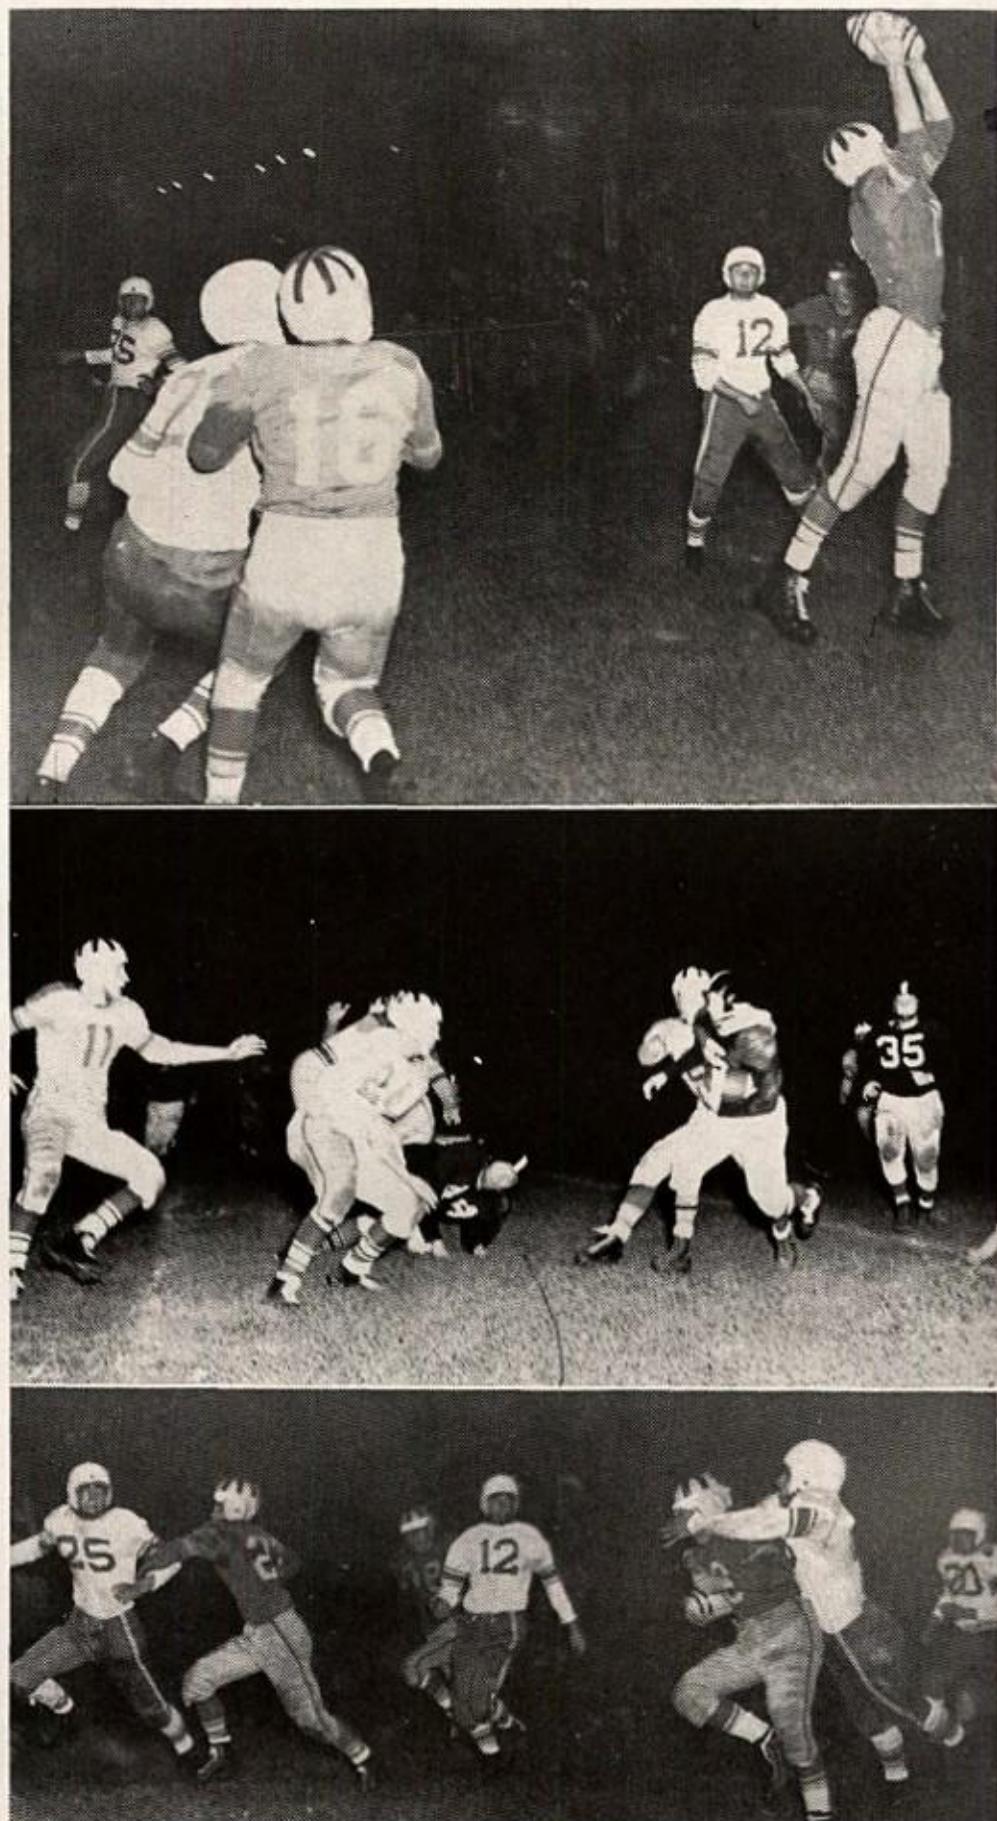

In their first Conference encounter, the Giants almost upset the "rival Kats from nearby Kokomo" in an attempt to end the 2-year tie streak, but the Kats surged back in the last 5 minutes to tie the score before the final gun sounded.

MARION 0 - LOGANSPORT 25

The Giants tasted bitter defeat when they fell before the Logan-Berries in their second Conference game of the season. However, the boys weren't too discouraged for they rallied to win their very next game.

MARION 34 - AUBURN 26

Auburn, who had previously been undefeated before they ventured to Marion, led the Giants for a short time; but they just couldn't maintain the lead. Four touchdowns in the second half paved the way for the Giant victory.

MARION 31 - NEW CASTLE 21

The Giants touched up their third victory of the season by eliminating the Trojans on their own field. Both teams netted several penalties; but the Giants maneuvered the action so that when the final gun popped, they were on top.

MARION 19 - LAFAYETTE 14

Marion trimmed the Broncos during the tussle played at Lafayette. The Giants, displaying cool, effective blocking, managed to tame the Broncos, even though the Lafayette squad rallied somewhat in the second half.

MARION 26 - FT. WAYNE CENTRAL 25

The Giants tacked up a Tiger skin to add to their winning streak but only by a one-point margin in a breath-taking game at Southside Stadium. The Tigers fought hard to crack the Giants' one-point lead; but neither team scored in the final quarter, leaving the Giants victorious.

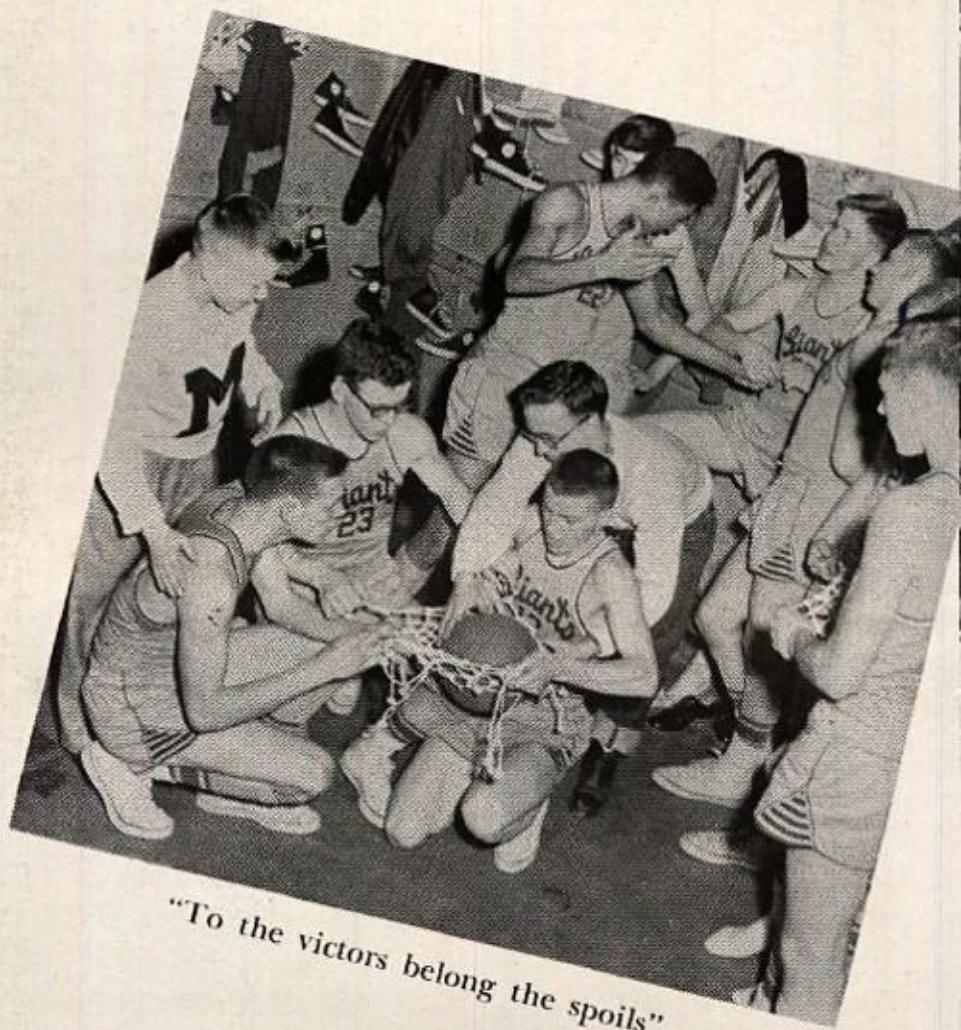

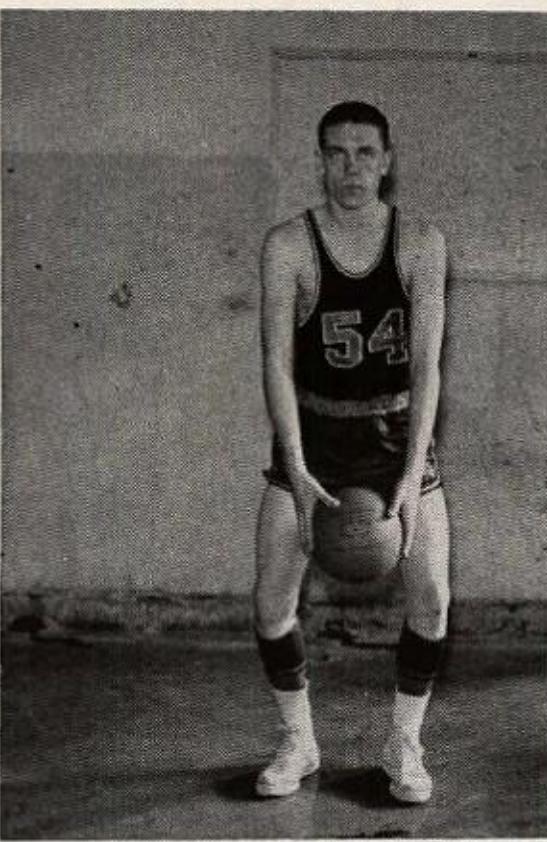

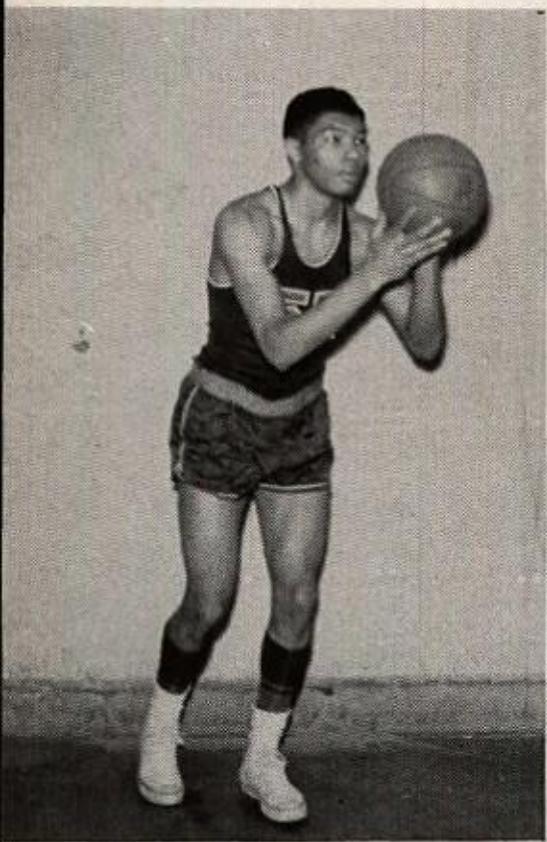

MARION 20 - WABASH 13

The Victory Bell, formerly retained in Apache territory since 1947, was returned to Marion in an annual scrap that chalked the Giants a 5-win record and handed the Apaches the first defeat of their season. The game was played at Memorial Field.

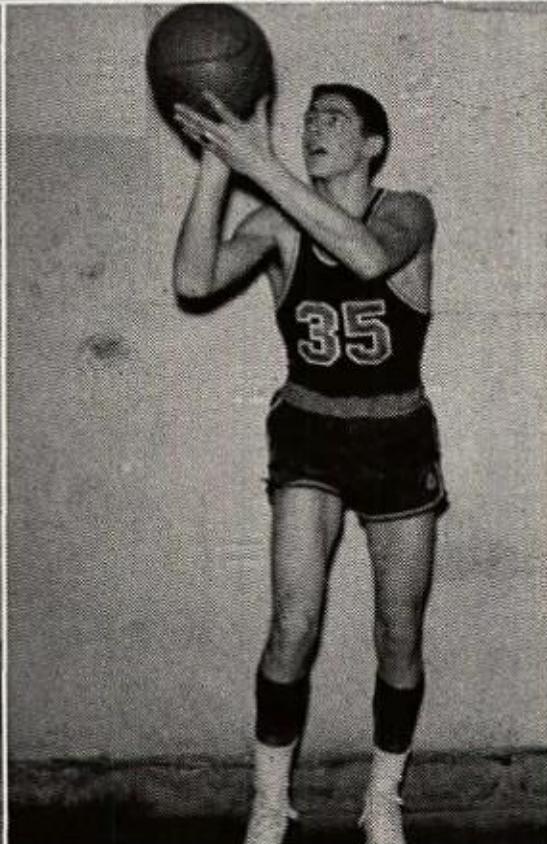

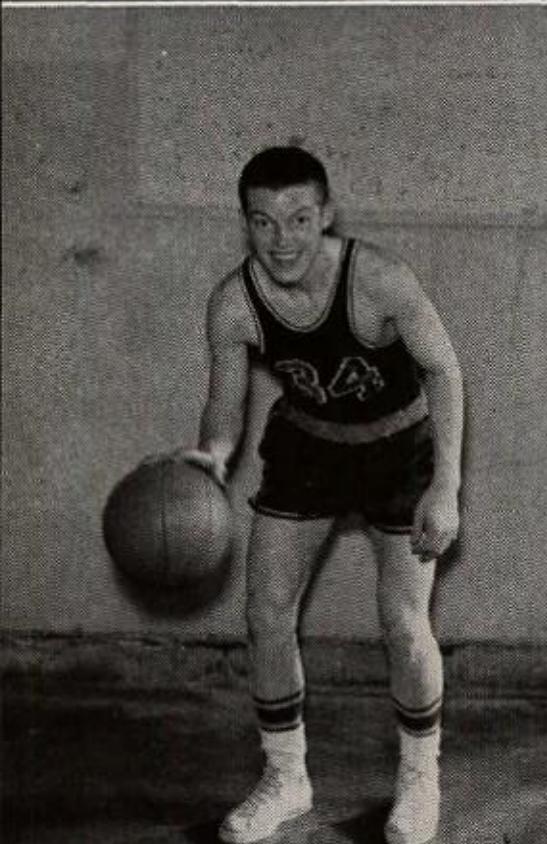

MARION 8 - RICHMOND 26

Even wind and weather were against the Giants as Richmond shut out the Giants' last hope of winning the '51 Conference. The game, played at Memorial Field in the midst of a raging blizzard, ended the season for both teams. Due to a safety in the second quarter, the Giants led 8-7 at half-time; but they couldn't maintain the lead for long. The Red Devils attacks were too powerful, and thus Marion suffered its second and final defeat of the 51 season.

and its history

The Marion Giants gained recognition by blasting ten opponents while yielding a like number of times. Finishing the season with an inconsistent record of fifteen wins and eleven losses, the Giants placed eighth in the conference.

Marion began the season by thumping Eastern, but dropped the next game to tall Elwood. Seymour, Kokomo, and Anderson felt the fate which team determination by the Giants delivered to them late in the game by only a few points. In a return engagement, the Giants were faced by the Kokomo Kats, who pounced on us with gnawing revenge; but the Giants held together even under the terrific scoring power of the Wildcats. The Giants met a third defeat when they went on the road to Peru. On to Richmond and the New Year's Turney! The Giants won a thrilling victory over Fort Wayne South Side in the afternoon game with a score of 37-36; but bowed to the ball-hawking Bearcats of Muncie, becoming the bridesmaid for the third consecutive year. The blackest day fell for the Giants when Anderson humbled the team by a terrific score of 83-50.

Getting back to firmer ground and victory for the Giants, the team trounced Huntington, Richmond, New Castle, and Wabash. Swinging into the rougher and latter part of the schedule, Marion survived one out of the last six contests, defeating Logansport after dropping four consecutive games to Lafayette, Tech, Fort Wayne Central, and Frankfort. We then fell before Muncie, thus closing the season on a ten won and ten lost record.

Marion rolled through the Sectionals by overcoming three determined county squads. Passing on to Regionals, we surmounted Bluffton in the afternoon, then slid past up-set minded Redkey in the last moments of the championship game. The following week, Marion reluctantly succumbed to the fiery Kokomo onslaught. Barley and Jones, in supreme effort, racked up 24 points each in a brilliant finish of their high school careers.

Jim Barley, senior veteran, sparked Marion throughout the season, becoming holder of every basketball record in M. H. S. His records established are: 30 points one game; 1015 tallies for a three-year span; and 221 points for an all-time record in the North Central Conference.

INTRAMURAL

Once again, this year as in previous years, Intramural basketball provided an outlet for boys who could not qualify for the varsity team. Its chief principles are sportsmanship, co-operation, and fair play.

The season opened early in November and lasted until the middle of February. Bill Meyer, assistant football coach, served as the league's director. Officials were members of teams not playing the game.

Following a tournament, a team consisting of W. Murrell, K. Weaver, R. Fouce, D. White, and J. Faulkner made off with top honors.

TRACK

Individual stars and teamwork together formed the nucleus around which a successful season was developed. Records were shattered both at home and abroad. Two new races were introduced — the 180 yard low hurdles event and the two-mile relay. Coach Ray Sears enforced strict training in order to condition his charges. Long hours of practice are needed to develop a true trackman.

The delayed opening of the campaign was due to an impromptu cancellation of the Kokomo meet. The Giants fell by a close score to Muncie Central in a dual meet, in which Bill Norkus bested his previous school record, uping it to over 50 feet. Next on the schedule, the Giants unmercifully romped over Huntington and Wabash in a triangular meet. Mick Barton sailed over the bamboo pole at eleven and one-half feet plus, the best vault in many seasons.

Victor in the Delphi Relays for the past two consecutive years, the Giants fell behind in the event to succumb to the speedy Columbus Bulldogs. Norkus once again put the shot for a new record. This throw of 52' 4" topped the Relays record by almost three feet.

Next on the agenda, the Giants were successful in sponsoring the Marion Relays at Memorial Field. Marion withstood stiff competition in the conference meet and then completed the campaign keeping their winning ways.

Jeanne Keyser reigned as 1952 Track Queen, with Pat English and Carolyn Miller as her attendants.

BASEBALL

The 1952 edition of the baseball team compiled a "better-than-average" season, as a lineup consisting of seven veteran seniors and capable underclassmen blasted all opposition in accordance with their disposition of the day. Routs, shut-outs, and squeezed-out victories, together with the scant defeats, made up the season.

After several rained-out attempts to get the season under way, the Marion Giant baseball team squashed the Portland Panthers in a rout, 13-0. Letting loose such a blast rarely happens in an opening clash. Chet Jones, in allowing but one hit, effectively controlled the pitching chores. Traveling to Hartford City for the next contest, the Giants were cooled down temporarily by the Airdales, 3-1. Jim Barley pitched two-hit ball, but our errors proved costly. Keeping on the road, the Giants split a double-header with the Decatur Yellow Jackets. Barley again pitched a two-hitter, only to lose once more on a miscue by the second baseman. Big right-handed Roger Rix hurled perfect ball in the second game to post the first no-hitter of the season.

The usual lineup consisted of Jim Barley, Chet Jones, and Roger Rix pitching; Art Herring at short; Jones at first; Bob Gowin or Ronnie Harrell at second; Phil Linville at short; Andy Wyckoff at third; Marcell Mills, Pete Wolf, and Larry Pace, John Quick, Barley, or Kirby Weaver in the outfield; and Walter Murrell or Gowin at catcher.

Second-year veterans carried the fate of the tennis team on their shoulders, as the sport now in its second season at Marion, provided an outlet for rack-minded boys. Coached by Keith Stroup, the racqueteers spent long hours in practice.

After a dismal start, the Giants plunged into an active conference schedule, slowly gaining respect by their opponents.

Playing five single matches and two doubles affairs, the squad dropped its opener to Peru. Lavere Weagley salvaged the only Giant win in the meets route. The Giants rebounded the next match to defeat Wabash.

Coach "Woody" Weir's 1952 edition of the Marion Giant golfers responded to long practice and skillful training in the expected successful manner, as the club swingers completed a fruitful season.

The Weirmen began the season by winning successive dual meets with Wabash, New Castle, and Elwood, in that order. The usual starters were chosen from a sextet of players. Medalist honors were held frequently by Jay Longacre and Jim Meredith, the team's two graduating seniors. Next year's performers will have depth and experience — both which lead to success.

CROSS COUNTRY nets six wins

Coach Ray Sears has come through again with his Cross Country team! Having swamped Washington of Indianapolis in their first meet, the Giant varsity squad proceeded to defeat Fort Wayne South Side, Richmond, Fairmount, Mississinewa, and Jefferson, bowing only to Anderson, Indianapolis Tech, and our standard rival, Muncie Central.

In the Marion Invitational meet, in which five teams—Kokomo, Marion, Muncie, South Bend Central, and Fairmount participated, our Giant "harriers" placed second. "Five" seemed to be a number set by Fate for the team this year as they placed 5th in Conference and the Sectionals.

Tom Archey and Vic Casey collected laurels for individual scoring in dual meets, but anyone can truthfully say that the whole team, through sportsmanship and co-operation, have made the '51 season a success.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization established with the purpose of playing games fair and square, cooperating with teams, building good character, recognizing the rules of fairness, and promoting good sportsmanship in all games. Members want to acquire a knowledge of games for enjoyment and for the betterment of our physical and mental health. This gives a wholesome use of our leisure time as well as training in good citizenship.

Club activities include kickball, volleyball, basketball, and softball. Each sport had a practice season, and then the girls had a tournament.

At last! After eleven long years of intense struggling, sweating, and studying, the class of '52 donned senior cords, assumed dignified airs, and prepared to make their last year at M.H.S. the best.

Amid "heckling" underclassmen, exchanging name cards, Civics, Modern Problems, and all the other traditional activities, the class elected officers. Following the election Oct. 2, the President appointed the following committees to plan the important events for the class: Commencement, Baccalaureate, Social, Cap and Gown, Invitations, Service, Publicity, and Finance.

SYLVIA JOAN ADRIANSON, Treasurer
Science Club, SPQR, Y-Teens, Band, G.A.A.,
Easter Parade, Jr. Attendant, President of Science Club, Clarinet Trio.

DON J. HOOKER, Vice-President
Hi-Y, SPQR, Science Club, Band, Hi-Y President, Cactus Frolic, Easter Parade.

The class project was sponsoring the Kokomo after-game dance held November 30, in the high school gym. After measurements for caps and gowns were taken December 5, the next major undertaking was ordering senior invitations. The Senior Banquet was served May 27, and the Baccalaureate was held Sunday, June 1.

The highlight and climax of the year's activities was the annual Commencement, observed June 5, at Memorial Coliseum. Final report cards were distributed to the deserving graduates June 6.

JUNIORS

Ah, to be a junior again. On a beautiful September afternoon, the juniors came back to enroll at M.H.S. for the exciting year ahead. What fun it was to watch the upper-classmen initiate the sophomores. No more worries for us, we can sit back as juniors and enjoy all the activities sponsored by the clubs and other classes; but, you wouldn't catch me doing anything. Well, it was a happy thought.

Soon after we had elected our officers, we decided that we should sponsor an after-game dance for all the Giant fans at the girls' gym on November 16. After the game we went to the gym and danced to the music of a blaring juke box and drank cokes as we discussed the basketball game with other Giant rooters.

So much for the fun, but now we had to get busy and no more fooling around. The seniors reminded us that we had to finance the Junior-Senior Prom. That warning glint in their eyes let us know that this year's senior class expected a colossal affair.

Pencils, pencils. Who'll buy a pencil with the basketball schedule printed on it? These purple and gold pencils were the beginning of the campaign to finance the annual prom.

Not to be out-done by the other classes, we juniors offered our part to the Student Council Talent Search. By this time we were getting to be regular stars at MHS in all sports and the finer arts as well.

At last, the prom was here, and we had hired one of the best bands to provide music. The decorations were the result of hard work and a lot of time. Yes, it was a worthwhile piece of work. We danced and heard comments made of the prom that were pleasing to all of us. New formals and best suits were the attire of the beaming couples. After the last dance was over, we trudged home, happy as larks because the prom had been such a success.

Not many days later, we put away our U. S. History, English, and Literature books. Yes, it had been fun hadn't it? We began the summer with thoughts about the good times we would have next fall and ideas as to the decorations we would have on our cords.

SOPHOMORES

A senior! Where can I hide? My back aches, and what I have left of my nose will be scarred for life; and my eyes are so slightly crossed from trying to keep my eyes on those pennies. Polishing seniors' shoes, their cars and running errands kept the sophomores on the run. Where is room 310? No, don't tell me I'm on the wrong floor again! Deans??? What are they? All the classes are full, Mr. Carmin. Miss Neal, I just know my schedule wasn't like this when I left junior high. These were only a few of the sad first day experiences of a lowly sophomore.

After everyone was established, well almost anyway, the class sponsors decided that it was time to get everything organized and the activities rolling. The sophomores staggered into the auditorium, sank down into the seats, and elected our class officers on September 26.

As if we didn't have enough bruises, the sophomore class sponsored an all school skating party, which was held at the Idyl Wyld. Having a few weeks to re-cooperate, we went into work full force and had a part in the sophomore booth at the Cactus Frolic.

Lower—

Sophomore Class Sponsors, Miss Marion Bredheft, and Mr. E. J. Tillet.

Upper—

Sophomore Class Officers, President Albert Harker, Vice-President Dixie Adkins, Treasurer Jade McMillan, and Secretary Constance Leckie looked over the year's plans.

Wonderful! Marvelous! Super! Best yet! were a few of the adjectives used to describe the Student Council Talent Search in which many sophomores participated. Some of these music maestros had been walking through the halls of Marion High, just waiting to be discovered. Were we amazed to find out who they were.

"Twas the week before Christmas and all through the halls, we heard the sophomores working very industriously to decorate the Christmas tree. Hundreds of lights, millions of tinsel icicles, and all the other things that make a tree look just right were put on. It was a real masterpiece, and all the students agreed that it added a generous amount of holiday cheer to the school.

Much too soon, the wonderful vacation days were over, and the sophomores had to come back to school. For the next few days the halls buzzed with gossip about the Christmas gifts, the Christmas dance and the places which had been visited. Then — the dreaded semester exams popped up in all the classes. Hours of intense study (?) were put in by everyone. After a quick look at the tattle-tale report cards, everyone decided to slip into his own little cocoon and study his lessons. Latin, geometry, biology, general business, and commercial arithmetic were given almost undivided attention the second semester.

So I lay: a lonely, lowly, and forgotten sophomore.
